

FAREWELL TO SALES SUPREMO

Sally Wilkinson, Sales Manager at Beales Hotels, has retired after 15 years with the family business.

Sally joined Beales Hotels in 1994 developing what was then a new role for the company and helped to guide the business to their current successes with two highly rated four star hotels, West Lodge Park in Hadley Wood and Beales Hotel in Hatfield.

Beales Hotels is the oldest family business in Hertfordshire and has a remarkable record for staff retainment, with many members of staff staying with the company for decades :

“I only intended to stay for a short while and help develop the sales sides of the business and have stayed for over 15 years,” said Sally at her leaving celebration on January 29. “But that is due to the fantastic people and amazing product I was able to offer here at Beales, neither of which can be bettered.”

Beales Hotels MD Andrew Beale presented Sally with gifts and thanked her for all her support :

“Sally began here at Beales at the end of the last recession and now leaves just as another starts, but all of her hard work over the years will help ensure we coast through these quieter times. It has been a pleasure to work with Sally and everyone at Beales wishes her a very happy retirement.”

Sally now heads off on a well deserved two month holiday, with husband Chris, taking in Australia, New Zealand and Singapore.
