

Green awards galore for Beales Hotels

ONE Hertfordshire family business has scooped awards galore as a result of their tremendous efforts to go green. Beales Hotels has been recognised by local and national organisations, including the Queen's Award for helping to preserve the environment and support their local community.

In 2011 Beales Hotels was the winner of the Hertfordshire Green Awards, runner-up in the National Green Apple Awards, finalist in the International Queen's Award for Sustainable Development and winner of the Enfield In Bloom awards.

Eighth generation

Managing director Andrew Beale is the eighth generation of the family to run the hotels, West Lodge Park in Hadley Wood and Beales Hotel in Hatfield.

He said: 'It is marvellous to receive such esteemed recognition for our efforts. Over the last few years we have reviewed all of our products and practices to ensure we are working as green as possible, while maintaining our high customer service standards.'

Beales Hotels is Hertfordshire's oldest family business, which has been handed down through the generations since 1769, to current managing director Andrew.

The Beales Hotels team weighed down by their awards (from left): finance director Tony King with the Hertfordshire Green Award, gardener Paul Baynes with the Enfield in Bloom award and hotel manager Dave Seward with the National Green Award

Both West Lodge Park, Hadley Wood and Beales Hotel, Hatfield are highly-rated four-star establishments with award-winning restaurants.